"Ray," said Gail, "do you think this town is nice?" "It's not bad," said Ray. "Well, I think it is just plain dull," said Gail with a frown.

After thinking for a bit, Ray said, "It does not have to stay that way." "Explain what you mean," said Gail. "Well, maybe we can make it nice. We can get everyone to help us fix up Main Street," Ray said.

Gail and Ray got red and blue crayons and wrote on a big white box. They made a nice display for people in town to read. Ray drew flowers and Gail wrote the words.

Gail and Ray took the display to town. The children waited for people to stop and chat. Gail explained that they needed paint and nails and tools and flowers. Ray made a list of names and wrote down things each person would bring.

Grade 2, Theme 3, Week 3 -- Hooray for Main Street (accompanies Big Bushy Mustache) -- Sentences

The next day, the town started fixing up Main Street. Moms and dads nailed and sawed while children painted and played. Everyone stayed and helped until daylight was gone.

The mayor made Sunday a big day. He praised the new Main Street with its rainbow of flowers. He praised Gail and Ray and those who had helped them. Then the band played while everyone marched down Main Street.

"I'll say!" exclaimed Gail. "Now this town makes us proud. It is as nice as it can be!" Then everyone in town stood up and shouted out loud, "Hooray for Main Street! Hip! Hip! Hooray!"
