Daddy plows the soil. His sure hands make nice, straight rows. It is good that Daddy is big. Plowing takes plenty of energy!

Each seed is placed gently in the soil. Then the seeds are topped with more soil. Most rows get seventy seeds.

Finally, it is the children's turn. Anna and her brother make sure plants get what they need. They water the seedlings each day.

After many weeks, the garden is finally in bloom. It takes a long time, but plants need that much time to grow.

Anna's family spends sunny days picking good things to eat. Harvest baskets get packed and heavy. Everyone is thirsty, dirty, and happy.

Anna's happy family eats many garden foods for dinner. Then Granny surprises them with fresh strawberry pie.
